CALL FOR PAPERS "CLIMATE CHANGE ECONOMICS AND MANAGEMENT: LINKING ADAPTATION AND MITIGATION"

28 janvier 2022 - 15 février 2022

The recent COP26 confirmed both the urgency of climate action and the increasing discrepancy between climate pledges and current emission patterns. Though mitigation appears essential to limit climate change consequences and avoid tipping points, it is now imperative to adapt quickly to climatic hazards, especially in vulnerable sectors or regions. Effective and cost-efficient actions require an improvement in the general understanding of the synergies, conflicts, and trade-offs between mitigation and adaptation strategies.
